Wichita Bond Committee Forms Saying “Yes Yes”

Wichita, KS. A committee to advocate for passing the 2026 USD 259 bond issue has formed and is encouraging everyone in the district to vote “Yes Yes.”

“We have a growing committee of people who believe Wichita kids are worth building for,” says committee chair Luis Rodriguez. “These are parents and community advocates who recognize that 259 students help define Wichita’s future and they’re counting on us to improve their schools.”

The Vote Yes Yes 4 Wichita Kids committee formally launched following the USD 259 Board of Education vote during their June 1 meeting to send a two-question bond issue to the November ballot. The committee’s purpose is to advocate for passing the bond, and is completely separate from the school district, which may only provide information.

“We are grateful to the district for their incredible work leading up to this moment. They went to the district staff, then to the community, and they listened. That’s reflected in the projects outlined in both questions,” continued Rodriguez. “Our message is simple: Vote Yes Yes.”

More information will be coming soon, including the launch of the campaign website. In the meantime, community members can stay connected by following @VoteYesYes4WichitaKids on Facebook and Instagram for campaign updates, opportunities to get involved, and ways to help spread the word throughout the community.
